Lehmans Ask Damages For Personal Injuries

Damages in the sum of $15,000 for alleged personal injuries received when a car on the Libertyville branch of the Chicago North Shore and Milwaukee railroad struck an automobile containing Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lehman of Lake Villa, owners of the Fair store in Chicago, are asked of the railroad by Mrs. Clara E. Lehman. The case started in circuit court Monday. Mrs. Lehman is represented by Attorneys R. J. Dady and John D. Pope. The work of obtaining a jury was in progress at noon.

The accident occurred September 10, 1917. The Lehman automobile, driven by Lee Purdy, a chauffeur, was proceeding south in Telegraph road and was struck by the electric car which was approaching from the east. The Lehman's charge in their declaration is that the driver of the electric car was negligent in that he could not be expected to see the automobile in the road. It is charged further that the driver of the electric car was negligent in that he could not be expected to see the automobile in the road. It is charged further that the driver of the electric car was negligent in that he could not be expected to see the automobile in the road.

LARGE SUM GIVEN AS WAR BONUS

Sixty Dollars Will Be Given To Each of The Men Drafted Into Service

$131,740 PAID IN LAKE CO.

Men inducted into the service through the Lake county draft boards at Waukegan and Libertyville have a total due them of $131,740 as their war bonus of $60 each as appropriated by congress, according to estimates just made public by the office of the federal zone finance officer, who has the huge task of paying the fighting men.

This amount, as understood here, does not include the bonus due to the men voluntarily enlisting or the several hundred who preferred to serve in the navy.

Following are figures given out showing the amount due drafted men in other Illinois districts:

Libertyville and Waukegan...$131,740
Ottawa, LaSalle, Streator...187,688
Pontiac...96,480
Bloomington...154,200
Carlinville and Staunton...164,440

Heavy Rains Cause of Flooded Tracks

The unusually heavy rains of the last several days has caused hundreds of acres of land in Lake county to become inundated. In the "cut" at Lake Bluff where the Libertyville branch and main line junction of the North Shore Electric road is located water was between four and five feet deep in places, which prevented the operation of cars at that point.

Street car traffic between Lake Bluff and Libertyville would have been shut off until the flood subsided had it not been for the fact that the street cars were at the west end of the line when the water started to rise, and they have not been able to get through to reach the barns at Highwood.

Likewise it was impossible to use the depot. The cars were able to go no further east than the Green Bay road. Waukegan people and others who desire to use the Libertyville branch of the road walk from Lake Bluff to the Green Bay road, people from Libertyville and other points west of Lake Bluff walked from Green Bay road to the station at Lake Bluff.

It is doubtful if the condition there ever has been as serious as it was this week and it is feared that it may be several days before the immense amount of water can be drained off.

The O'Plain river valley at Gurnee is flooded badly, as is also the Fox river valley between Antioch and Burlington. In Waukegan, especially in low places there are many basements which are filled with water.

Town Caucus Was A Very Tame Affair

Last Saturday was town caucus, but for some reason or other there seems to be a shortage of candidates all the way around this year, and not an aspirant for the office of supervisor appeared until almost the last moment of filing, when Chase Webb again entered his name.

Opposition however developed at the polls and of the total 69 votes cast, 53 were for Webb and 8 for L. B. Grice, the latter being written in.

For committeemen the vote stood as follows:
P. O. Hawkins, 56.
George White, 48.
Elmer Brook, 41.
David Pullen, 27.
For constable several scattering votes.

Lake Villa Farmer Found Dead In The Barn

When on Tuesday morning Mrs. Antonio Scialero, of Lake Villa, had waited an unusually long time for her husband to come to breakfast she went to the barn to ascertain the cause of the delay. As she entered the barn she caught sight of him lying face downward on a pile of hay. Hastening to his side she was horrified to discover that he was dead.

The deceased was about forty-five years of age and is survived by his widow and four small children the eldest being about eight years of age.

He had been bothered for some time with a severe heart trouble and had gone to Chicago frequently to consult a physician.

Deputy Coroner Edward Conrad conducted an inquest and the body was brought to the Strang undertaking rooms at this place awaiting the arrival of a brother and sister from Michigan. They are expected this (Thursday) afternoon.

Landis Denies Receiver for Fowler's Firm

Federal Judge Landis Tuesday issued an order discharging a petition in bankruptcy filed against the Life Saving Device company, Chicago. An involuntary petition was filed against the company by certain creditors a short time ago, they scheduling claims of $650. Judge Landis held the company is solvent.

This is the firm of which Frank T. Fowler is the head, with Lewis D. Jones as secretary and treasurer. David E. Clarke was one of the petitioning creditors.

It is understood Mr. Fowler showed Judge Landis that the company has a deal closed with a Boston concern which will buy between $50,000 and $60,000 worth of the Life Saving Device company products a year.

Eighteen months option which has the lungmotor manufacturing phase the complete.

Mr. Clark entered the case on an intervening party and was a creditor.

Annual Meeting of Lake Co. Board

The annual meeting of the Lake County Board of Supervisors was held at the Elmer Brook hotel at Antioch, Ill., Tuesday evening.

The first item of business was the reading of the report of the Board of Supervisors for the past year.

The report was read by the Chairman, Mr. W. L. Pierce, and was well received by the Board.

The Board then proceeded to the election of the Board of Supervisors for the coming year.

The election was held by ballot and the results were as follows:

Wm. Grunke, 56.
George White, 48.
Elmer Brook, 41.
David Pullen, 27.

SHORTAGE OVERCOME AT LAST

143 JARS OF VAPOR PRODUCED EACH WEEK

It is with pride that we announce the Government's drug trade that the shortage of the VapoRub, which has lasted since the first of October, is now overcome. Since the first of October, we have been running our streets and public places with the last of our back cities and villages.

It is an amendment to the cities and villages act, and proposes that the tax shall be included in the annual appropriation bill and tax levied ordinance and shall not be subject to reduction.

The tax shall be in addition to the one and one half per cent or two per cent tax that may be levied by any city or village and shall not be subject to the provisions of the section requiring a vote of the people.

Why Are Lake Co. Taxes High? Why are Lake county's taxes so high? According to information recently given out, the 1917 rate, said to be about the same as the 1918 rate, is exceeded by the rates of only three other counties in the entire state.

Here are the four highest, according to a tabulation:
Lake—$6.91 per $100 valuation; ten year average rate, $5.40.
Safford county—$7.29; ten year average, 6.19.
Lawrence—$7.41; ten year average, $6.09.
Cumberland—$7.10; ten year average, $5.09.

The Naked Truth

One of the best writers of war articles is George Pattulo. It was he who first wrote of the great victory of the U. S. Marines at Chateau Thierry and Belleau Wood. His articles are clear and simple and he puts forth the truth of situations as he finds them in unmistakable terms. Here is an extract from a late article which illustrates the attitude of the soldier in service on the vital issues of the day, particularly the so-called league of nations:

"Not a man in the third army but wants to go home. They are longing to get back. They feel that America has accomplished what it set out to do and that the sooner the army returns to the United States the better."

"The more thoughtful among them have reasons other than personal. They can foresee snares and pitfalls and tortuous ways ahead. Already the difficulties are piling up; already problems are arising which may easily place us in a bad position. They fear that the United States may become mixed up in the wrangles and jealousies and hates that dominate all national affairs in Europe. The people are fed on it from the cradle. They learn to fear and distrust and prepare against neighboring nations. That is the direct result of propaganda from the top—endless propaganda centuries of it."

"In Europe racial prejudices are a stone wall to progress. Every war leaves bitterness and wounds which lead finally to another. It is a vicious circle, without any end in sight. From a purely American standpoint George Washington was right about 'no entangling alliances.' The officers in our army are unanimous in declaring that the less we mix up in international affairs on this side of the water the better off we shall be. We haven't the same purposes, we haven't the same aspirations, we haven't even the same ideals. Though of the same blood as the older races we are yet a vastly different breed."

"And the quicker this army is jerked out and we get back to out knitting the better. We fought for one thing—our safety. It is idle talk of having entered the way to succor any nation. Germany drove us in. A triumph would have threatened our security and institutions. So we went to war and we won. Now get back."

Fishes 'Ires A' Otel

Latest news from Paris brings the word that President Wilson on his sojourn to the French capital, will be met by a fish, a very original costume shown recently was one of black velvet with a Chinese blouse. Defying almost every conceivable idea of what fashion is supposed to be, the most noticeable feature of the suit was its extreme chic and up-to-date air. In the first place it was semi-ditied, rather more at the back than we are accustomed to seeing, and then it was cut exactly knee length.

Perfectly plain mannish revers extended to below the normal waistline and were bound with velvet. Not a pocket or a slash relieved its severe blackness and the sleeves were slightly wider at the wrists as an only concession to the mode. No visible means appeared at the front by which to fasten the coat, for buttonholes or buttons were absent, and the front was just touched. Plain tailored suits we have had in plenty, but the extreme pocketless plainness of this model and its length sets it apart. The skirt was plain and rather narrow and the Chinese blouse of blue and black was held with a cord girdle finished with a large tassel.

"Hays see him; he must go to Washington for 10 days; see Senate and House; prevent split on domestic policies."

"Here is evidenced as clearly as if the few words filled a volume, Mr. Roosevelt's realization of both his responsibility and his obligation. The simple memorandum marked the inauguration of a definite party policy, to be carried through to a no less definite conclusion. It was more than a passing thought or a mere suggestion. It was Message, signifying the need of the hour and warranting the need of the hour and complete unity of action, resolving domestic problems before attacking those of wider range soon to thrust upon the country—a true leader's call first to close the ranks."

"Nothing could be more characteristic or more clearly illustrative of the breadth of mind, the force of the directness in method, the outstanding attention of detail. Nothing too, probably could have served his purpose better than that those words should have been first. Difficult as it is to reconcile of it to the degree of Divine Providence that the removal of that great soul at this critical moment was timely, we cannot but realize it could have been the first to achieve that the best vestige of a man which might have continued his highest aspirations was with him, and thereby the person which he so ardently desired all things un-American was."

"Thus we Republican party assuming full five authority thoroughly in indignation by the peculiar which so often carried it to former years."

SMOKING TOBACCO FACTS FROM THE ENCYCLOPAEDIA

The Use of Flavorings Determines Difference In Brands

The Encyclopaedia Britannica says about the manufacture of smoking tobacco: "... on the Continent and in America, certain 'sauces' are employed the use of the 'sauces' is to improve the flavour and burning qualities of the leaves." Which indicates that a smoker's enjoyment depends as much upon the flavoring used as upon the tobacco.
Your nose is a sure guide in the matter of flavorings. Try this simple test with several tobacco brands: pour some tobacco into your palm, rub briskly, and smell. You will notice a distinct difference in the fragrance of every brand. The tobacco that smells best to you will smoke best in your pipe, you
can rest assured.
Carefully aged, old Burley tobacco,
plus a dash of pure chocolate, gives
TUXEDO Tobacco a pure fragrance your nose can quickly distinguish from any other tobacco. Try it and see.

LAST THOUGHTS OF ROOSEVELT

Desired Republics to Close Ranks and Give Attention to Domestic Issues.

TANGIBLE EVIDENCE OF WISH.

Theodore Roosevelt's last thoughts were of the domestic issues of his country, whose determination will decide the fate of the next generation. He saw in a united Republic a commission to formulate and carry out the guarantee of reconstruction and successful handling of domestic problems. Tangible evidence of this is a memorandum pencilled by the late President. To Colonel George Harvey of the North American Review.
